FORT SMITH, N.W.T. — The Northern Triplets, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Urban Gauthier of Fort Smith, were born in the hospital here on August 30. They are believed to be the first set of triplets born in the territories and survive. Mr. and Mrs. Gauthier were not expecting more than one baby up until a few days before and then after X-rays they were expecting twins. Every one concerned was greatly surprised when triplets arrived. The photo was taken the day they came home from the hospital. They were about a month old at the time. They are still strong and healthy and being watched closely by the hospital authorities. Mr. Gauthier and family just moved here from Plamondon last March and are quite anxious that this picture be published in the paper so that all his friends and acquaintances in that vicinity might know of the happy event. The other children in the photo from left to right are Colette age 3, Marianna, age 9, Euclide, age 11, and Marilyn, age 6. The triplets' names are Elsie, Elaine, and Eileen.

Ollie Nahrabinchyk & Joe Harnaha Seal Wedding Vows With Two Rings

FRAINS — The Ukrainian Greek Orthodox Cathedral of St. John's in Edmonton was the scene of a lovely double-ring wedding ceremony when Miss Ollie Nahrabinchyk, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Metro Nahrabinchyk of Frains became the bride of Mr. Joe Harnaha, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Harnaha of Montesello, on Oct. 15.

Rev. Fik of Edmonton officiated at the ceremony.

For her wedding, the bride chose a white floor-length gown of taffeta styled with a full skirt. The fitted taffeta bodice was accented by embroidery of seed pearls and crystal beads. Seed pearls and crystal beads encrusted the skirt's side panels and a bow hung in the back. A waist-length veil of illusion net misted from a beautiful tiny crown of seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of red roses. Her only jewelry was a pair of pearl tear-drop earrings.

Bridesmaids were Miss Anne Nahrabinchyk, only sister of the bride, Miss Vicky Twancony, and Miss Vicky Tymo, cousins of the bride, and Miss Anne Mamchur, friend of the bride. They wore identical blue dresses of nylon over taffeta, white headpieces, and white glovettes. They wore teardrop earrings, gifts of the bride, and carried similar bouquets of flowers.

Best men were Mr. Nick Mamchur, Mr. Peter Piche, Mr. Alex Nakonechny and Mr. William Smith.

Approximately 400 guests attended the reception held at the Frains Community Hall in the afternoon. The newlywed couple received many beautiful gifts and nearly $1,000 was presented them. The Weasel Creek orchestra played.

The couple will reside near Boyle.

LAC LA BICHE — Miss Carolyn Biollo, 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Biollo of Venice, is receiving congratulations on winning the governor-general's gold medal awarded to the student in the Lac la Biche school division for the highest standing in the Grade 9 examinations.

An announcement from Government House in Ottawa said that, due to delay in preparing the medals, they will not be presented till next spring. However, an awards night is being planned by officials of the Dr. Swift High School and the divisional board. Presentations of scholarships will be made to Grade 9 honor students at that time. Tentative date for the annual affair has been set for Nov. 19 in the Memorial Hall.

Lac la Biche Lake Drops Four Inches

The Director of Water Resources for Alberta, F. L. Grindley, said lakes and streams in most parts of Alberta are low and there is somewhat of a water shortage, with the exception of Lac la Biche in the northern part of the province.

Lac la Biche hit an all-time peak this year rising four feet above its normal level. Mr. Grindley said the lake has dropped four inches. He said the water threatened to washout portions of the main road into the town of Lac la Biche, but work by the Highways Department has raised the level of the road.

A new outlet for the lake and upstream storage on the Owl River watershed would control the lake's level, but would cost an estimated $250,000.

Mr. Grindley said the south fork of the Milk River in southern Alberta is dry for the first time in 15 years. He added that cattlemen are having difficulty providing sufficient water for livestock.

Gas Turn-On News Gets Around

(From Vegreville Observer)

Mike Maccagno of Lac la Biche is Alberta's only Liberal MLA. But you wouldn't have guessed it last week when Lac la Biche officially turned on its new $210,000 municipal natural gas system.

Mike, who cares quite a bit more for his constituents than he does for party politics, invited Premier Manning and Provincial Treasurer Ted Hinman to be guests of the town for the occasion.

They took him up on it, and sat at the head table as some 300 townspeople attended a banquet to congratulate themselves on being the first community to finance its own gas system through local sale of revenue bonds.

Party politics were forgotten. Mike paid tribute to the premier and the treasurer, saying that without their co-operation Lac la Biche would not have had its gas system. And the premier paid tribute to Mike, telling the audience how hard he worked on getting government co-operation on the project.

Later, Premier Manning turned the valve and Mr. Hinman touched off a gas flare to mark the official turning on.

It was a big day for Lac la Biche. Town Council declared it a civic holiday, hundreds of children turned up at school in the afternoon to meet the premier and the provincial treasurer.

Most of the 180-mile drive to Lac la Biche is on gravel, but the road had never been in better shape. Don't know whether the premier's visit had anything to do with it, but the graders were out two abreast putting the road into condition.

The bride chose a floor-length gown of nylon net and rayon lace. The lace bodice was sprinkled with sequins and pearls, setting off a pearl necklace and earrings, a gift of the groom. A fingertip veil and a bouquet of red roses completed the bride's ensemble.

Hospital Auxiliary Members Visit Europe With Mrs. Nancy Shemeluck

SMOKY LAKE — On Oct. 3 the Women's Hosptal Auxiliary held its meeting in the Home Economics room of the H. A. Kostash school. Twenty-one members and two guests, Mrs. Nellie Grandish and Miss Jansen were present.

Mrs. Lobay read a report on the regional conference at Radway. The month's mending and visiting reports were given. Mrs. Mary Filewych won the month's mystery box brought by Mrs. Pauline Skoropad.

Tag day was set for Wednesday Oct. 19. Committee in charge consists of Mrs. Doris Lobay, Mrs. Mary Palamarek and Mrs. Sophie Leskiw.

The next month's meeting will be held Nov. 7, and hostesses will be Mrs. Mary Kokatilo, Mrs. Sophie Leskiw and Mrs. Doris Lyle. The mystery box will be brought by Mrs. Strembitski.

Mrs. Nancy Shemeluck, one of the auxiliary members, gave an interesting talk on their trip to Europe this summer. She said they landed in Glasgow, then went to Brussels, Belgium, where they were taken through a lace factory. She had a sample of this work to show the ladies.

Next they had a three-day stay in Paris, then went on to Zurich, Switzerland, to Vienna, Kiev, and Lluv. The stay was limited to the cities. They next flew to Yalta, went by ship to Odessa and on to Bulgaria and Romania.

Their stop in Istanbul, Turkey, was quite out of the ordinary. The old ruins of Athens were most impressive. They attended a theatre there that is 2300 years old.

At Naples they had a four-day stop, also visited the beautiful Island of Capri and Pompeii where they visited a cameo factory.

Florence, the city of arts, was their next stop. There also was a factory, in which leather tooling was done. She brought samples of this work. They also saw the Leaning Tower of Pisa.

Their next stop was Venice, a city built on water. They were taken through a factory where Venetian glass is made. In Monte Carlo there was a perfume factory they visited.

Barcelona was their next stop on the way to France, then to London and Scotland.

UFA Co-Op Bulk Oil Station Is Now Open For Business At Myrnam

Months of planning and organizing by farmers have finally made business a reality. The new UFA Co-op bulk oil station in Myrnam recently constructed is now open for business. Peter Smoliak, local resident who has lived in the district most of his life, has been appointed UFA Co-op agent. His acquaintance in the community and previous experience in the oil business, places him in a good position to fulfill the important job he has undertaken.

Many months of work in planning and organizing was done by local farmers before the business could become a reality. Steve Melnyk, FUA sub-district director in district No. 7 was in charge of the survey in Myrnam and was ably assisted by Nick Yanitsky.

The Beauvallon survey was conducted by Peter Gusniowsky. Results of the completed surveys were encouraging and arrangements were made last spring to acquire suitable property.

The site chosen is conveniently located just south of town on Highway 45 and the municipal road leading south to Mannville. Construction crews that started building about a month ago, have completed the job and the bulk station is now in business.

All grades of gasolines, diesel fuels, heating oils, motor, transmission, hydraulic oils and greases are available. The agent has equipped himself with brand new equipment including truck, tank, power-take-off pump and meter. Products can either be picked up at the plant or delivered in large or small quantities directly to the farm. Customers receive patronage dividents on all their purchases.

PETER SMOLIAK

In the near future, an open house celebration will be held to mark the opening of this new business in Myrnam.

Busy Bees And Aces Present Year's Achievements At Hall

GIROUXVILLE—The Busy Bees and the Aces held their combined Achievement Day recently at the Parish Hall. Thirteen Busy Bees and five Aces exhibited articles. Each member showed the following: a project book covering things learned in club work; one jar each of canned carrots, peas, beets and pickles; a pot of parsley; a display of fresh cabbage, carrots and beets; a set of dried herbs; a bouquet of asters; a bouquet of summer flowers.

Judges for the event were Miss Priscilla Mewha, supervisor of 4-H Clubs, department of agriculture; Miss Shirley Myers, district home economist from Grand Prairie; and Gordon Campbell, fieldman for the Alberta Wheat Pool.

In the evening the girls presented an interesting program with Yvonne St. Andre, president of the Busy Bees, as chairman: O Canada 4-H pledge; word of welcome in English by Paulette Anctil of the Aces, and in French by Yvonne St. Andre; history of 4-H by Phyllis Erickson of the Busy Bees; report on the club's business activities by Claudette Parent of the Busy Bees; demonstration on preparing vegetables for display by Rose Marie Decoine and Clara Atkinson, both of the Busy Bees; song by both clubs; report on the club's social activities by Judy Erickson of the Busy Bees; demonstration on flower arrangement by Suzanne Dusseault and Therese Guenette of the Busy Bees; comments by the judges Miss Priscilla Mewha, Miss Shirley Myers and Gordon Campbell.

Father Frigon then spoke a few words of appreciation and encouragement towards 4-H clubs, following which lunch was served by both 4-H clubs.

Construction At Vermilion Booms

Construction permits have been issued for a number of buildings here.

Work has started on the new Renaud and Casey hardware store, erection of steel for a new $225,000 agricultural and recreation centre, and five new residences.

The hardware store will be an ultra-modern structure with a frontage of 60 feet on 50 Ave. and a depth of 100 feet. It is just west of the town hall.

Bringing many workmen to town also was the delivery of the steel for the agricultural and recreation centre. Permasteel has the contract for the steelwork and many beams are now in place on the cement footings that were run some time ago.

The Vermilion Hotel is undergoing a very complete face-lifting and the Gospel Hall has been practically rebuilt and placed on a full basement.

TIPS FOR PARENTS

By EDITH HENRY—Parents Education Associates

BILLIE lasted three days at school before coming home with a bruised cheek and a shirt that had literally been through the wars.

"I had to hit a boy this morning, Mummy," was his complacent announcement. "He broke down the house I was making."

What is to be done when children fight at school?

In the old days it was customary to come out of school and every two or three days see a crowd of boys gathered up the road.

In a cleared space in the centre of the crowd you would find the two school champions fighting again.

Before too much damage was done, the fight was over. Everybody went home to lunch.

Neither the cause of the battle nor its result seemed to have much importance. It was simply a healthy sports event between two champions.

Today, this type of fighting has apparently given way to hockey, bowling and volley ball leagues.

Should it occur, one headmaster described his procedure, which might be applicable on the home front, too.

- The contestants are allowed to cool down.
- They are summoned for an interview
- The first question asked is, "What did you prove?" This usually draws the sheepish answer, "Nothing."
- Facts are quoted on disastrous physical injuries suffered in fights. The contestants are asked if their difference was worth this risk.
- Finally it is pointed out, "It seems that you have wasted a lot of good energy which we can use around here. Go to the caretaker and ask for his next cleaning-up job."

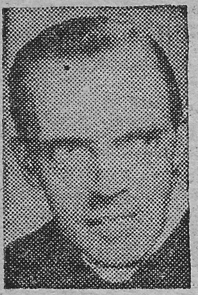
Anglican Rector, Bon Accord, Gibbons, Redwater

Ranch Home For Homeless Boys

First let me introduce myself to the readers of the Sun Publishing Co. Ltd. newspapers. I am Rector of the Anglican parishes of Bon Accord, Gibbons and Redwater. I received my early schooling and theological training in England. My wife and I came to Canada over 10 years ago and we have four children.

I am intensely interested in the welfare of all children, and one of the outward expressions of this interest is beginning to materialize in the Oakhill Boys' Ranch Project.



Rev. Ramsay Stuart

I feel that none of us can stand idly by when we hear of children being abused or neglected. It is a Christian duty to report the maltreatment of children to the proper authorities. On behalf of children therefore, who may be suffering because nobody has reported their situation, I have accepted Mr. Pue's invitation to write a weekly column for his newspapers, which cover so much of the province.

Readers of Mr. Pue's editorials must be fully acquainted with his efforts on behalf of abused children. I am in full accord with any effort made to lessen the sufferings of boys and girls who are deprived of a good home atmosphere. Please feel free to write to me in complete confidence, reporting on cruelty to children. Your correspondence will be answered and will receive prompt action. This is a free service which offers assistance through the best channels available.

From week to week I will tell you about this work for and on behalf of children, and also about the future Boys' Ranch at Bon Accord. Our Blessed Lord loved the children and called them to His company to be followers of Him. I invite your moral and active support to make the Christian religion touch life. When a child is suffering—He cares! Do you?

Aurrol Duperron has returned to work in Swan Hills for the winter.

Many district residents attended the bazaar at Grassland which was sponsored by the ladies of the Grassland Anglican Church WA.

Roland Ulliac will be employed in Lac la Biche during the winter.

Mrs. Leo Lamoureux from Normandeau visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ulliac, over the weekend.

Centuries ago in Europe, gentlemen who were regular drinkers had personal drinking cups that they took to the tavern each night and to their graves when they died.

THE Homemaker

By BERTHA M. McCUTCHEON

Now is the time to enjoy a meal of wild fowl. The ducks have been eating your grain, now it is your turn to eat the ducks.

B. McCutcheon

To Clean Wild Duck—clip the wing tips and remove the coarse guard feathers, leaving the duck covered with down. 1. Melt a cake of paraffin and paint the ducks using a brush and covering the entire surface of the bird with hot wax. Allow the paraffin to harden and then pull it off. It will carry the down with it. 2. Examine the ducks carefully for shot and remove them with a sharp pointed instrument. Wipe clean with a damp cloth or wash thoroughly and be sure the oil glands are removed. 3. Duck is sometimes strong flavored. Stuff it with sliced apple, celery, onion or a raw potato. Remove and discard this stuffing before serving the duck as it will have absorbed the strong flavors.

4. Here is a Brown Rice Stuffing which is delectable.

1 cupful brown rice
Boiling water
½ teaspoonful salt
1 cupful coarse, dry bread crumbs
½ teaspoon pepper
1 tsp. poultry seasoning
3 tbsps. celery heart chopped
1 small onion, chopped fine
3 tbsps. butter
2 tbsps. parsley chopped

Wash rice through several waters. Place in flat bottomed pan, cover to twice its own depth with boiling water. Add ½ tsp. salt, bring to a boil, then reduce the heat, cover tightly, and allow the rice to cook until it is quite tender. It should be dry with grains apart, not sticky.

To the cooked rice add bread crumbs, salt, pepper, poultry seasoning, parsley. Fry onion and celery in butter until yellow and tender, but not brown. Add this to the dry ingredients and toss lightly to mix well. Stuff the ducks lightly, sew up. Rub the surface of the duck with salt and pepper. Spread on the breast and legs a little bacon dripping or fasten slices of bacon across them. Place in a hot over 450 degrees F. and sear to golden brown. Reduce temperature to 325 degrees, add about one cup of water and continue roasting until tender allowing about 20 minutes to the pound for a well-done bird. Orange, pineapple or grape juice may be used in place of water.

Humidifier Added To Children's Ward

LAC LA BICHE — The Ladies of St. Catherines recently financed the purchase of a Walton humidifier for the children's ward in the hospital. This machine is the latest model on the market and will fill a definite need at the hospital.

Funds for the project were raised by the ladies running a booth at the First of July Sports Day, also by holding raffles.

A set of Rogers' silverware for six and a ladies' watch will be presented to the lucky winners at the annual parish bazaar which will be held Nov. 17 in the Memorial Hall.

The Ladies of St. Catherines wish to thank all those who kindly helped to support this worthy cause.

No Fires In Past Three Years Excellent Record Of Thorhild

By Thorhild Fire Chief

During the fire precention week, on behalf of the members of the Thorhild Fire Department, I would like to again remind the citizens of this community that the best way to fight fire is to prevent it.

According to a report by the Dominion Fire Commissioner, with care nine in 10 fires are preventable. We are thankful to the citizens in this community for a good record of no fires in the past three years. This has been only made possible through your kind cooperation in the prevention of fire.

In order that the citizens may continue with the good work on fire prevention, here are a few hints which you may find very helpful:

1. Remove fire hazards from your home daily.
2. Do not smoke in bed.
3. Do not clean clothes or start fires with gasoline or other flammable liquids.
4. Do not through away matches without first being sure they are out.
5. Check your heating appliances and chimneys at regular intervals.
6. Do not place hot ashes and coals in anything but a metal container and do not leave these containers sitting on a wooden floor.
7. Protect all woodwork close to smoke pipes with asbestos and metal, leaving an air space of at least two inches between this protection and the pipe.
8. Do no electrical repairs unless you are a qualified electrician.
9. Do not use pennies, hairpins, foil and such as electric fuses.
10. Pledge to make Fire Prevention a year-round obligation by participating actively in the fight to reduce Canada's annual death toll by fire.

Thorhild fire department consists of 21 members divided into three platoons in charge of three captains who are responsible to see that each member in the platoon receives adequate training in knowing how to properly use the equipment.

We intend to give our members more extensive training later this fall in order that we may have an up-to-date fire department with a good knowledge of the latest fire fighting techniques.

TWO NEW CORMS PLUS CORMELS
OLD BULB TOBE DISCARDED
TIE LATE-PLANTED GLADS IN BUNCHES. HANG UP TO MATURE

Dig Glads for Winter Storage

IN northern gardens it is time to dig up the glad corms. While a light frost may not harm them, a severe one would.

Lift the bulbs carefully, using a spading fork. Shake off the soil and allow plants and bulbs to dry in the sun. Then pack loosely in shallow boxes so that air can get to the bulbs. After about five weeks cut off the foliage.

Discard the old bulb. It is no longer of any use. You will find it has been replaced by some cormlets and one or more new corms, as shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph.

Late-planted corms should be dug before frosts, even though not mature. Leave the stalks attached to these, and hang, as shown, in an airy, frostproof place until matured. Then cut away the stalks and store the bulbs, first dusting them with a 5% DDT powder to kill the thrips which may be hibernating in the corms.

Sort the bulbs according to size. The large corms can be stored in shallow boxes or crates or hung in nylon stockings. Separate colors or varieties can be hung in different stockings. Air easily circulates around them. The cormlets can be stored in boxes or bags filled with dry sand.

The storage place for the bulbs should be dry, fairly cool but frostproof (40 to 50 degrees) and have a circulation of air.

SAYS NEW BBB BOOKLET:

When You Buy Paint, You Get Exactly What You Pay For-

In buying paint products today it is more true than ever that "you get exactly what you pay for." This is the theme of a booklet entitled "How to get Full Value for your Paint Dollar" which has just been released to the general public and is available from any Better Business Bureau.

Modern quality paints, the B.B.B. point out, didn't "just happen." They are the result of long and expensive laboratory research. Thousands of carefully controlled tests may precede a major change in a house paint formula. Following this the new product is then subjected to long periods of outdoor testing and weathering on "test fences" in varying climates and conditions. The development process for a new interior paint formula, while somewhat different, is no less exacting, time-consuming and expensive. All this is undertaken before one can of the new product is offered to the public.

In purchasing paint there are broadly speaking, three sources open to the consumer—namely:

1. High grade paint manufactured and distributed by reputable manufacturers, through authorized dealers and agents.

2. Paint sold by reputable retail organizations at redced sale prices.

3. Cheap "bargain-type" paint advertised with extravagant claims and generally backed by high pressure promotion.

A knowledge of the operational methods of these sources is needed to measure the worth of their products, since any other method of evaluation of the relative worth of the paint by the average consumer is practically worthless.

For example, a quality product retailing at $8.75 per gallon and a "bargain - type" paint selling at $3.50 per gallon would, viewed side by side by the average purchaser, defy accurate comparison in terms of weight, label claims and general appearance at the time of purchase.

Following are a few basic facts on each of the sources which may assist the consumer before making his paint purchase.

Reputable paint manufacturers maintain a constant, rigid control of each batch of paint they manufacture, assuring the consumer of the original tested formulation. They depend on the quality of their products and service to maintain their reputations and are, therefore, not inclined to make statements which do not have a sound foundation in fact.

As for source two, occasionally paints of excellent quality are packaged under special labels and sold to large volume buyers at reduced prices, enabling these retailers to offer bargains to the public usually for a short period, below the recognized price levels. If the retailer enjoys a reputation for integrity and has demonstrated over the years a willingness to stand behind the product he sells, then in all probability his offer is of genuine value.

It has been the history of most types of businesses that once a market has been developed for the products of reputable companies, sooner or later, unethical operators will enter the field to prey on the unsuspecting pubilc.

In recent years these operators have plagued paint buyers in ever-increasing numbers, flooding the market with cheap, inferior special label, unbranded paints. These are generally worthless products, often misrepresented with worthless "money back guarantees."

If you are confronted with this type of "bargain paint" the most important single fact to remember is that you get exactly what you pay for. Almost without exception wild claims about "fantastic" price bargains invariably describe a poor quality product that can bring you endless grief over the years and the loss of hundreds, perhaps thousands of dollars, to repair the damage.

The metal thallium gets its name from the Greek word "thallos" or "green twig".

FREEDOM'S GUARDIAN

This is National Newspaper Week, a time set aside each year during which we might discuss with you the merits, the problems, and the philosophies of our free press.

And, during this week, many articles will be published calling attention to the role of newspapers in protecting your freedoms—protection that comes as dedicated individuals seek out and publish facts.

Strange as it may seem in a country whose way of life has been so closely tied with an unrestricted press, there are forces here that would deny and censor the right of free access to seek out these facts. There are those who would close public meetings to the press—bar reporters from council meetings and legislative hearings.

To limit the press in its attempts to obtain accurate and factual information is to limit newspapers in their fight to protect your freedoms.

While this newspaper condemns such practices on the part of public officials, we could hardly do so without first examining our own operation and know that we practice what we advocate.

Our relations with advertisers—who make it financially possible to have a free press—serves as an excellent parallel. The most important function we serve for them is by providing the circulation for their sales messages. Because of this, circulation facts are essential to their planning and the success of their advertising investments.

Just as we believe a reporter should not be denied complete access to the facts as a protection of your freedoms, neither should anyone with a legitimate interest be deprived of accurate, factual circulation data.

That's why this newspaper is a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulations—so that we might furnish advertisers with verified information about our circulation. In all, 10 weeklies published by Sun Publishing are proud to fly the ABC banner.

As a member of the Audit Bureau, "any and all records deemed necessary" by ABC are submitted to independent audit by specially trained circulation auditors. Following the auditor's visit, ABC publishes a report containing his findings on our circulation. Through this easy-to-read report, the facts of our circulation are made available to advertisers—a complete and objective report.

Copies of this report are available free to advertisers.

Just as we believe that complete information regarding the advertising value of this newspaper should be available as a protection to our advertisers, so do we believe in the obligation of newspapers in guarding the freedoms and protecting the interests of our readers.

The press, as the recognized medium on public discussion and information, should be given every opportunity to obtain the facts if it is to remain freedom's guardian.
